In this case, you will like the new game Cat Ninja (we have unblocked versions of this game, it allows you to play from anywhere without any restrictions). The game is very fun and completely free, you can even play directly from your browser. How to play: Your number one task is to reach the finish line at the level. Each map has its own unique buildup, there may be different enemy units, there may be different obstacles, different rewards, etc. Keep in mind that your cat has different abilities, can climb the walls, can slide, use different equipment, etc. Use your skills wisely, because it can be decisive for your victory. Along the way you will encounter several checkpoints, in case of failure you can continue to play from the last checkpoint. This is the kind of game progress saving feature that is very handy in different situations. Make sure you do your best to pick up all the rewards on the map (giant broken pieces of crystal), give you extra points and is your main goal to collect all of them. Control: - Use the arrow to move (up and down buttons are for jumping and sliding). - Wall jump ability is also done using the arrow buttons. - Double up arrow button triggers double jump. - Hold down the down arrow button and the rolling triggers. - You can press laser buttons and another object in the game if you perform a double jump over the button and press the button with the down arrow and hold (this movement can be used to break the glass and perform other tasks to help you catch all the crystal parts and reach the finish line). - These are all the main controls, along the way you can see other tips (below the map), read these tips for more information. Story: You are a ninja and there is nothing impossible for you, that is exactly why the world trusted you the task of collecting all the parts of the broken giant crystal and saving the world from a huge explosion. You will face many dangerous obstacles along the way and other challenges, do not worry and use all the tools in your arsenal to succeed. Counting statistics: Pay attention to the top left of the game window, there you can see that the game collects all the data about you. The information displayed is: how many times you have died and how many crystal parts you have been able to collect. Tracking these stats is really important if you want to achieve a high score in the game. As always, you should focus on your mistakes, try to correct your mistakes, try to die and little time as possible, and of course do everything possible to catch all the crystals. You have to save the planet in order to do this you have to collect all the pieces of the giant crystal. Use your ninja skills to overcome all obstacles and don't let your kitten die. Find Cat Ninja on the phone: Playing on the phone is very popular these days, we are happy to announce that the game now has a version of the app as well.
